Terms and Conditions Booklet

Retain this document for reference at all times

1. The voucher does not permit the bearer to trigger Article 50 of the Treaty of Lisbon on behalf of the United Kingdom.
2. The voucher may be redeemed at selected stores in Andorra, Luxembourg and the Vatican City, in addition to the United Kingdom.
3. The voucher is not an airline ticket. Attempting international travel on the voucher alone will most probably be unsuccessful.
4. The provider accepts no responsibility for damage to property, health or psychological well being incurred in the use of the voucher, or for any criminal charges or claims for compensation levied as a result of the use of the voucher, or for any other legal consequences of the use of the voucher.
5. The voucher must be kept on the person of its recipient at all times; failure so to do will invalidate the voucher.
6. The voucher may not be redeemed by those wearing yellow underpants. Any attempts at redemption by those wearing yellow underpants will immediately and permanently invalidate the voucher.
7. The voucher must be kept in the direct vicinity of a piece of white paper marked with the words “this piece of white paper is in the direct vicinity of the voucher”. The paper must be rectangular and measure 3 inches by 2 inches, to the nearest half inch on each dimension. Doing the above is the responsibility of the bearer and failure so to do will result in the invalidation of the voucher.
8. The voucher may not be folded exactly in half along its long edge; a voucher folded in this way will not be accepted for redemption. Any other folds in the voucher are permitted, such as folding the voucher in half along its short edge, or folding the voucher along a diagonal.

9. The voucher may be redeemed an unlimited number of times, but each redemption must occur more than three days but less than 36 days from the last. The duration for which a redemption will hold is at the discretion of the party with which the voucher is redeemed, hereinafter referred to as King Henry the Fourth, and may vary between individual redemptions.
10. In order for a redemption to be valid, it must occur between 17 and 26 seconds past an even minute past any hour between midday and the following 5:58PM. An invalid attempt at redemption will not invalidate the voucher, but will mean that another attempt at redemption cannot be made for 6 hours past the invalid attempt.
11. King Henry the Fourth reserves the right to annul any previous redemption, but only when the redemption period has passed, that is to say, when a period of coding goodness is not currently in session.
12. King Henry the Fourth reserves the right to state or modify by decree the factual history of any events which took place during a redemption period, and which are relevant to the voucher or its redemption activities. Any alternative facts must be held in lesser regard to those given by King Henry the Fourth, and failure so to do will invalidate the voucher.
13. King Henry the Fourth reserves the right to invalidate or replace the voucher at any time, or to change these Terms and Conditions at any time, without prior notice.
